Happy New Year to everyone in the Carmeuse Overseas family! As we step into 2026, we're excited to launch our new sustainability agenda, which sets our ambitions for the year ahead.

At Carmeuse Overseas, sustainability is not just a series of projects, it's a commitment to the communities we serve and to the future we're shaping together.

This year, our efforts will continue to focus on the four Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) where we believe we can make the most meaningful contribution.

These SDGs guide our decisions, sharpen our focus, and help ensure our work aligns with both local needs and global priorities.

To make sure this year's initiatives create meaningful, long-term value, we're approaching our sustainability agenda through four core priorities:

- 1 Foster collaboration and share knowledge and resources to broaden our reach and drive deeper, more sustainable outcomes.
- 2 Plan with a Long-Term Lens and prioritize projects that create sustained value for our communities and can grow or scale over time.
- 3 Track Our Success through clear KPIs that allow us to celebrate wins, identify gaps, and continuously improve our approach.
- 4 Align CMO with Excellence by highlighting people and initiatives that embody our values and have achieved success in school and community.

As we begin 2026, we do so with optimism, ambition, and a shared commitment to building a more sustainable future. Thank you for the passion and dedication you bring to this journey.

Strengthening Community Well-Being in Senegal

Two important awareness initiatives were recently carried out in Bandia, Senegal, each aimed at improving the well-being of children and supporting long-term community development.

As part of the malnutrition prevention program, food supplies were delivered to support children in the area. In collaboration with project partners, practical measures have been planned for 2026 to further improve the community's access to nutritious food.

In parallel, a meeting with a reproductive health expert and the principal of Bandia High School laid the groundwork for establishing a new Family Life Education Club.

This club will serve as a platform for student-led awareness activities on topics such as hygiene, reproductive health, menstrual management, and school-related challenges.

The initiative is designed to encourage young people to exchange best practices, learn from older peers, promote social integration within both school and family settings, and nurture a culture of giving back to the community.
